President R. A. Falconer,
Toronto University.

Dear Sir,- I am instructed to inform you that with your approval, the Sociological Club of the Theological Colleges affiliated with the University of Toronto have made you their Honorary President. The object of the Club is two fold, - to promote an active and intelligent interest in the great social problems of today and to provide an opportunity of discussing these questions. Trusting you will comply with our wishes in this regard, I am,

Yours truly
J. E. Jones,
Secy.

Mr. T. E. Jones,

Secretary, Sociological Club of the Theological Colleges,

32 Hazelton Avenue,

Toronto.

Dear Mr. Jones:

It is very kind of the members of the Sociological Club of the Theological Colleges to elect me as their Honorary President. I am sure that there are others who might have been chosen in my stead, and I hope that the honor will be transmitted next year. However, it would be ungracious on my part not to recognise your kindness by accepting the position. Will you let me know what duties go with the office?

Yours sincerely,

President.
